Bus Question

- There is a policy of no eating on the bus. It is hard for bus aides to monitor this situation.
- The monitor's first job is to maintain the security of the bus.
- We need to educate the children that they are not to eat on the bus and by no means should they be sharing food. It could be harmful to their friend.
- The transportation office will add a question to their form asking parents if their child has any medical conditions that they monitors should know about.
